Brand Guidelines

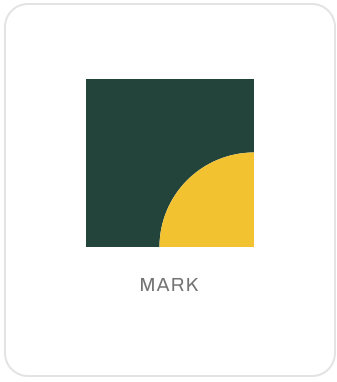

Trace images into vector shapes that fit together.

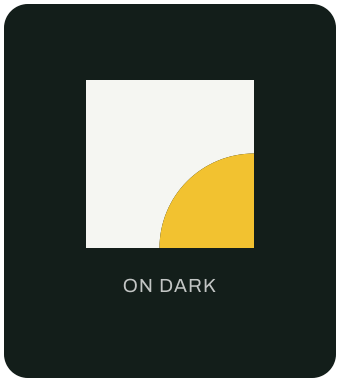

Inlay turns logos, illustrations, line art and pixel art into SVG. Every edge between two colours is traced once and shared by both shapes, so they fit together exactly, like inlaid wood: no gaps, no overlaps, no slivers.

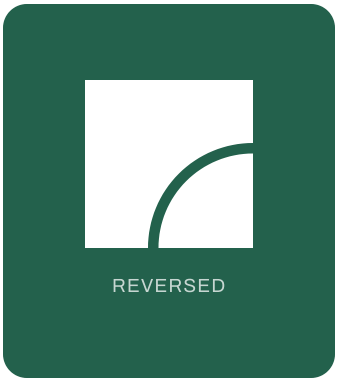

It runs in the browser, keeps images on the device, and is free and open source, as an app and as the inlaytrace package.

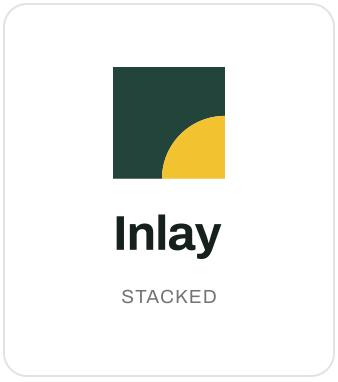

LOGO 01

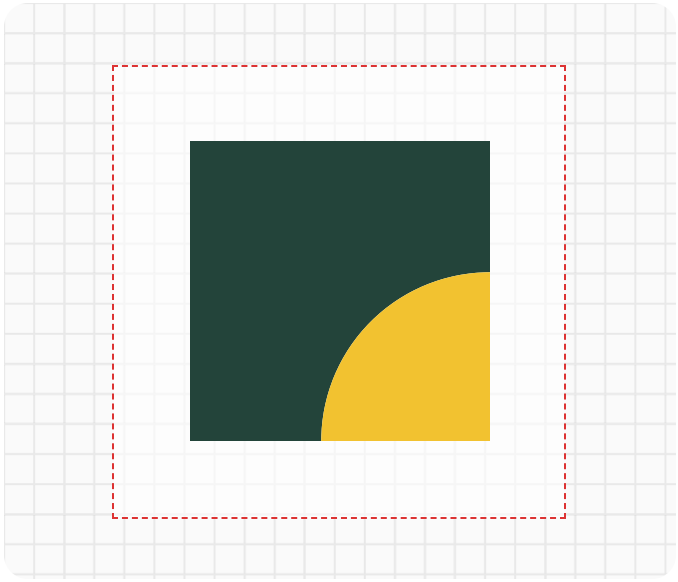

Use the full logo wherever there is room, and the mark alone where space is small or square. On dark grounds use the dark version; where only one ink is available, use the one-colour logo in black or white.

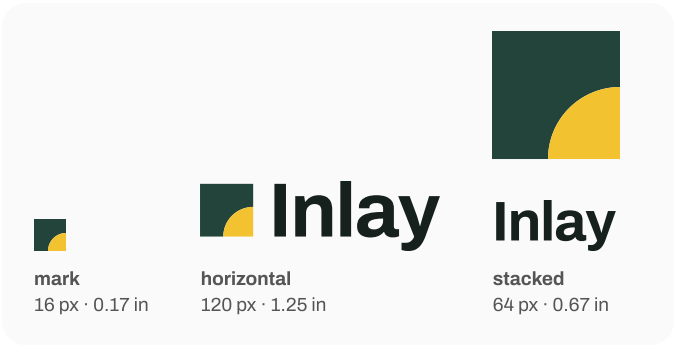

LOGO RULES 02

Construction

A square with a quarter-disc set into its corner: the disc's radius is 9/16 of the side and its centre is the square's corner, so the two pieces share one true arc. The dashed line is the clear space: 25 % of the mark's height on every side, kept free of text and other graphics.

Trace images into vector shapes that fit together.

Headings are set in Archivo at 700 with slightly tight spacing; body copy in Archivo at 400, 16–18 px on screen and 10–12 pt in print, with a line height around 1.5. Keep lines to 60–75 characters. It is a free Google Font: load it from fonts.google.com or self-host the files.

Dark-mode backgrounds.

The bar shows roughly how much of each colour to use. Text needs 4.5:1 against its background (3:1 for large type and graphics). CMYK values are a starting point for print; ask for a proof.

EMAIL SIGNATURE 05

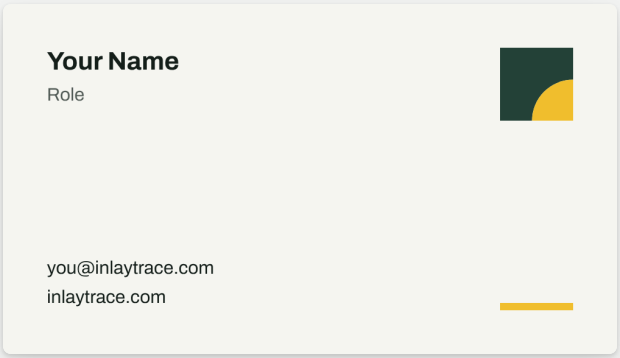

Files in `templates/email/`. Host `logo.png` (set `templates.email.logoUrl` and export again), open `signature.html` in a browser, select all, copy and paste it into the mail client's signature setting. `signature.txt` is the plain-text version.

One table with inline styles, so Gmail and Outlook keep it. The logo is the app-icon art on its own tile so it survives dark mode, and the text falls back to Arial where Archivo isn't installed. Keep it to name, role, contact and site: no quotes, banners or icon rows.

BUSINESS CARD 06

Front

Size 3.5 × 2 in trim (85 × 55 mm in Europe), with 0.125 in bleed on every side: `business-card.pdf` is 3.75 × 2.25 in, one page per side, fonts embedded and the logo in vector. Keep text 0.25 in inside the trim.

Layout The front carries only the logo, on the brand colour; the back carries the person: name in Archivo 10.5 pt, role and up to four contact lines at 7.5 pt, never under 6.5 pt. Order a proof: printers convert RGB to CMYK, so check the colour against the values on page 3.

Files in `templates/slides/`: an editable `.pptx` (each layout is a slide master with placeholders; opens in PowerPoint, Keynote and Google Slides) and a PDF. 16:9 with 0.75 in margins; titles in Archivo 38 pt (54 on the title slide), body 22–24 pt and never under 18; six points at most. Brand colour on title, section and closing slides, paper behind content. The full logo opens and closes the deck; content slides carry only the small mark.

Files in `templates/social/`, each with a `-blank` version (field, logo and bar, no text) for designing posts in Canva or Figma. One headline of eight words or fewer per image, the dark logo small in the top corner, the accent bar along the bottom. Stories keep text out of the top 250 and bottom 300 px; the Ko-fi cover crops its sides on phones, and the X header's lower left sits under the profile picture.
